Character

Part Two

Describe a character in TV or film.

You should say:

Who this character is

What he does

Why you like him or her

And explain what you learn from him/her.

My favorite character is an old man in ancient Chinese film. His name is Kua Fu. He determined to have a race with the Sun and catch up with Him. So he rushed in the direction of the Sun. Finally, he almost ran neck and neck with the Sun, when he was too thirsty and hot to continue. Where could he find some water? Just then the Yellow River came into sight. He came to the river earnestly and drank the whole river. But he still felt thirsty and hot, thereupon, he marched northward for the lakes in the north of China. Unfortunately, he fell down and died halfway because of thirst. I admire this character as I learn some lessons from him. I know how to get strong determination. No matter what you do, you must insist it on, and this is what you want.

Part Three

Examiner: What characters do boys and girls like?

Candidate: Boys like the characters who have done heroic deeds, and their characters are the heroes in the film, as for girls, they are also crazy about heroes who are handsome. Nowadays, Korean and Japanese characters are popular.

Examiner: How do advertisement and TV affect people's life?

Candidate: People will be affected, and they notice the fashion and lifestyle in advertisement or TV. They believe it is the trend, and young people may follow suit.

Examiner: What's the influence of TV on children?

Candidate: Children watch cartoons on TV, and they get education from stories. They know some simple life philosophy. They know what is right and what is wrong.

Examiner: What characters will people admire in the future?

Candidate: I guess in the future, people will admire those successful businessmen.

Examiner: What's the difference between the characters young people and old people like?

Candidate: Young people are crazy about the characters who have individuality while old people like those who have traditional virtues.

Examiner: Does modern lifestyle have any negative influence on people?

Candidate: Sure. People always stay at home and they are far from nature, which may affect their health. They sit in front of computer screen for a long time, which is harmful to their eyesight.

Examiner: Is violence serious in China?

Candidate: I guess not. I know it exists, but I rarely care about the news of this kind.

Examiner: Do you think that violence will affect young people?

Candidate: To some extent. They probably become too hostile and aggressive after watching violent films, and their curiosity will be aroused. They may imitate.

Examiner: Should the government control it?

Candidate: Yes. There should be a limit to the reports of the violence. If too much is exposed, it is bloody, and people may get negative feelings about it.

Examiner: What kind of people do present children like?

Candidate: Nowadays, children like the stars who are either in the sports field or entertainment field. They like their way of life and the way they dress.

Examiner: Will they imitate their idols?

Candidate: Yes. They will try to buy the clothes and accessories that their idols use. They read newspapers or reports about their idols, and they want to possess the things that their stars have.

Part Three

Examiner: How do the Chinese people get the news?

Candidate: We get the news by watching TV, reading newspapers, surfing the Internet or listening to radio.

Examiner: What're the advantages of the different media?

Candidate: In my opinion, it is vivid to watch news on TV because you can watch the pictures and listen to the news report at the same time. Young people like surfing the Internet because it's efficient and fast. You can find any news that you are interested in and you don't have to waste time on the boring news. Some people like reading news because the news report is in detail and you can read it any time anywhere. You can read newspapers when you are waiting for the bus or when you are at home.

Examiner: What's the trend of ways of people get the news?

Candidate: Messages on mobile phones are going to be popular. People may get news from their mobile phone.

Examiner: Do you think it is necessary to control the news coverage?

Candidate: Absolutely. News coverage must be controlled. Some news shouldn't be reported because it's dangerous and it can do harm to people.

Examiner: What kind of news do you think should be controlled?

Candidate: News about violence must be banned because young people may be affected and they may learn the ways of committing crimes reported. Besides, false news should also be banned because it is misleading and people may be cheated.

Examiner: Do you think that the media can report the news about famous people?

Candidate: It depends. I believe it is OK as long as the news report doesn't affect the private life of famous people. Common people are interested in the life of famous people because it is far away from them and it's fun to know something that is different from theirs.

Examiner: What qualities must a reporter have?

Candidate: Excellent reporters must be honest and brave because sometimes they need to report the dark side of the society. Besides, they must have integrity and the sense of responsibility.

Examiner: What's the future of media?

Candidate: Media will be highly developed in the future. Computers may become the most popular medium.

People can watch live shows on computers or listen to news report. Maybe computers will be the only medium in the society.

Examiner: How are people going to get the news in the future?

Candidate: They can get news on the internet, and this is going to be popular.
